Welcome!

I've had the great luck of attending numerous events all over the world and while it can be a little tricky, the one item I always have in my closet is a Little Black Dress. The right LBD doesn't need a lot of styling extras and always amps up my confidence.

I know dressing up for that special thing can be anxiety inducing, but stressing out about what to wear takes the fun out of the occasion.

So go ahead and send an email to: marina@flyingsuitcase.com and let me know the types of struggles you encounter when choosing an outfit for an event. I personally read every email and would love to help you!
